DUCHARME

The Haldimand Papers, B-127, contains this interesting letter.

Carleton Island, 17 Nov 1778

Sir

I desired Captain Le Maître to acquaint your Excellency that there was a french trader settled at Cataragui, who, I have been since informed, has a Pass, and he was directed to call here to show it to me which he has not done, as he went up a River betwixt this Island and Oswegatchie. I am told that there is two Indian Traders beyond Catarachie & that the one, who is settled at Catarachie, has brought up a large quantity of Beavers. Since those traders ~~from that~~ ~~Nations~~ have been settled here, very few Indians from their Nation have been upon this Island.

(Captain) Thos. Aubrey
Command of Carleton Island.

Was this french trader at Cataragui in 1778. The ancestor of the Ducharme family of this region who claim that members of this family was residing at Cataragui when the Loyalists arrived at ~~Catar~~ to prepare for settlement?
